Rebecca is a dynamic litigator with deep financial services defense experience. She takes a practical approach to efficiently defeat complex claims. She conducts rigorous early investigations, identifies risks, and capitalizes on winning defenses while protecting clients' bottom line.

Rebecca Snavely Saelao is a Member in Severson & Werson's San Francisco office, representing financial institutions, primarily national banks, mortgage and auto lenders, and loan servicers. She has extensive experience defending suits brought under the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA), the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), and the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA). She obtained complete defense judgments on behalf of mortgage servicers in cases tried in state court in 2013 and 2014.

Her experience includes defending class actions alleging statutory violations, unfair business practices, breach of contract, and fraud. On behalf of a major mortgage servicer, she obtained an order dismissing with prejudice a putative federal class action brought by heirs to deceased reverse mortgage borrowers. The decision was affirmed on appeal to the Ninth Circuit. She has also successfully negotiated class action settlements, navigated the class settlement approval process, and resolved multiple putative class actions on an individual basis.

Ms. Saelao served as a panelist at the American Bar Association Consumer Financial Services Committee 2017 meeting in Carlsbad, California. The panel examined lower court decisions in the wake of U.S. Supreme Court rulings affecting class action cases. She also served as a panelist at the Mortgage Bankers Association Regulatory Compliance Conference 2016 in Washington, D.C., where she presented on the Fair Credit Reporting Act litigation and compliance trends.

Before joining Severson & Werson, Ms. Saelao practiced at Morrison & Foerster LLP from 2002 to 2011. She also served as an extern to Hon. Saundra Brown Armstrong, N.D. California and Hon. Marvin R. Baxter, Supreme Court of California.
